

A princely stay - the simple way at the Royal Champêtre B&B!

Winter brings an aura of magic not only to Quebec City, its maze of streets and its squares, but also to the surrounding countryside and the river, which seems to slumber peacefully. Make the most of this charming, enveloping setting – allow yourself to be tempted by an excursion to the Côte-de-Beaupré!

Just 10 minutes from Old Quebec City, in Boischatel, on the very first roadway in New France, the Royal Champêtre occupies a choice site and offers a panoramic view of the St. Lawrence River and Île d'Orléans. The impressive Montmorency Falls, with a height of 83 m, are less than 5 minutes from the B&B. In winter, the falls, which literally shimmer under the accumulation of ice and snow, provide a stunning spectacle.

The Royal Champêtre offers all the luxurious touches of a princely establishment without being pretentious. With the warm, attentive welcome, the antique woodstove and the large, themed bedrooms, your family will be very comfortable here for a stay with no compromises and friendliness that's sincere.

Dreaming of a weekend of skiing at Mont-Sainte-Anne? Make the Royal Champêtre your home for an out-of-the-ordinary stay! When evening falls and you return red-cheeked and famished to the B&B, you'll be seated in front of a fondue pot, a raclette or a three-course dinner prepared with flair by the talented Brigitte.

The rooms and suites, soundproofed and air-conditioned, all have private bathrooms, and the privacy is much appreciated by couples as well as families. In addition, there is an inviting patio for you to take in the views of Île d'Orléans.

The dining room, where the famous woodstove sits, is bathed in sunlight. Gourmet breakfasts, made with local and regional products, are served here. Among other delicious treats prepared by Brigitte, you'll enjoy waffles and crêpes drizzled with maple syrup. The view of the majestic river will help you start your day in a contemplative frame of mind.

This B&B, with its unique atmosphere, offers you a very pleasant stay with care and attention fit for royalty!
